Adam – Do you object if we invite a legal intern? Assuming not, her name is Maria Dal Santo. If Givaudan is not comfortable with this, please let me know.

Yes, that works. We will arrange a conference room at our office in Newark for 2pm on March 10th. At your convenience, please provide a list of the individuals attending with you and I will make sure that the list is provided to security. Thank you.

Adam – Following up on our exchange two weeks ago: what about March 10 in the afternoon? EPA people could travel to Newark.

FYI – the data validation report for the August 2015 sampling was posted to the Passaic River Digital Library Sharepoint site today.

Adam – We expect to be able to provide the data report next week. For a meeting, we are now looking at the second week of March. I will propose some dates (unless you tell me that week is absolutely no good).

Hi Sarah. As we discussed the last time we spoke, we will need to push back our proposed meeting until we receive EPA's data and have a chance to review same. Do you have any updates on when that data will be available? We currently have place holders on our calendars for February 23rd and 25th. Please let me know if either of those dates would work on your end. Of course, we may have to push the meeting back further if the data is delayed further, but I wanted to get some dates to you for consideration. Please let me know at your convenience. Thanks.
